

PoE Ready. Up to $3,250 back.

Trade Up to the DSX CableAnalyzer™ to ensure your network is ready to support you today and in the future.

Is your network ready for the demand of Internet of Things (IoT) and the staggering number of devices connected to the networks?

Wired devices, such as Digital Lighting, Signage, Security Cameras and Wi-Fi Access Points, will increasingly be powered by Power-over-Ethernet (PoE). PoE deployments result in lower cable installation costs, simpler infrastructure management, less maintenance, and reduced power consumption.

Is your old cable tester capable of certifying your network to the new PoE standard requirements? If not, step up to the power of the DSX CableAnalyzer. DSX testers certify Modular Plug Terminated Links (MPTL) that typically connect a PoE device to the network plus run a complete set of resistance measurements to ensure proper PoE operation.

Upgrade today to a DSX CableAnalyzer and get up to $3,250 in rebates for your old tester.
